

Below, you'll find information about sessions and some key dates for 2025. Please have a look at these dates with your young person and let us know as soon as possible if there are any dates they are unable to attend.

The Bright & Wild Festival

Your child is part of 'The Outline' group.

The group will be presenting a final performance at the Bright & Wild Festival at Lyra.

Performance Dates:

- Friday 6th June 2025
- Saturday 7th June 2025

Introducing...Jo!

For their Bright & Wild project the Outline will be working with Jo Sharp to make a devised theatre show all about a camping trip in the woods 🏕️👤🔪

Jo is a Performance Maker and Facilitator who works with young people to make original performance. Through this project the group will explore the teenage instinct to take risks. Will we find freedom in the forest or discover the dark side of going at it alone. Will the Ghillie Dhu step in to save us or leave us to learn for ourselves? Is he there? Is someone..... out there?

Attendance

In the Outline we work as an ensemble and create the performance together if you are absent from sessions or very late to sessions this will affect how much of the final performance you are part of. There are only 10 sessions left between now and our technical rehearsal, so it is more important than ever that Young Artists attend every session. If there are any dates you know you will be absent, please let Lyra know as far in advance as possible to help us plan.

We kindly ask everyone to make an extra effort to arrive on time for the start of the session.

We've noticed an increasing trend of lateness recently, and it's important to the flow and success of our sessions that we begin together and make the most of our time.

We start the session at 1:30pm! If you want to have some lunch/snack make sure to get here early.

On Fridays consider coming to Lyra straight from school to avoid lateness. You are welcome to have lunch here (we have bagels!) and to get changed if you want to. For those who have been arriving on time, your commitment to being punctual is greatly appreciated and helps ensure a productive and enjoyable experience for all. If you know you are going to arrive late, please let us know as soon as possible.
